

APPENDIX III

EVAPORATIVE EMISSIONS CONTROL SYSTEM

Diagram A-III.1 shows the typical evaporative emission control system and canister schematics from a Holden Commodore (V6 model), and the purge control valve and fuel tank come from a Mitsubishi Colt. This diagram gives an indication of the components of these systems. Different vehicles may have different design characteristics.

Diagram A-III.1 - A typical Australian Evaporative emission control system

