

Submission: 085

Anonymous

Whilst completing my flight training I have experienced a few near misses, with it being evident from discussions and reports how the 'see and avoid' principle is flawed. This is a needed change with one a enquired about recently as perfect conditions need to be present for see and avoid to be successful. Mandating ADSB-IN will improve situational awareness and reducing collision risk