

Submission: 145

Anonymous

Search the internet for POD cockpit and you will see the limited space we have to mount instruments. When you factor in most pilots also fly with a GPS Locator (Spot/Inreach/EPIRB) and a phone, there really is no where left to mount a ADS-B and power source. In an open harness (which most pilots fly) There is no way of fitting said devices