The skyecho that is commercially available and CASA gave a 50% rebate on excluded paraglider and hanggliders as you stated that we were not registered aircraft. If you now want to completely change this you need to offer all pilots the same option of at least a 50% rebate that you offered to pilots flying registered aircraft. To not do so would be double standards and show that we are second class citizens who you don't really care about. The reason why you didn't want to give us the same opportunity at the time would have to completely change.
