ROVER guide: How to add your road vehicle to the RAV once specified conditions have been met

November 2022

How to add your road vehicle to the Register of Approved Vehicles once specified conditions have been met

Under the Road Vehicle Standards (RVS) legislation, a road vehicle must be entered on the Register of Approved Vehicles (RAV) before it can be provided for the first time in Australia for use on public roads.

To enter a single road vehicle on the RAV, you will need a concessional RAV entry approval.

What are specified conditions?

In some cases, the department will apply specified conditions to a concessional RAV entry approval, which you must satisfy before your road vehicle can be entered on the RAV.

When the department applies specified conditions, they are set out in Attachment A2 of the concessional RAV entry approval notice.

This guide outlines the steps in ROVER that you must take to inform the department that you have satisfied specified conditions and your vehicle is ready for RAV entry.

This guide is not intended for road vehicles to be modified by a registered automotive workshop approval holder, as per the requirements of section 37 of the Road Vehicle Standards Rules 2019 (the Rules).

Examples of specified approval conditions:

Specified conditions may address a range of issues including, any RAV entry requirements. The following are examples of specified conditions of concessional RAV entry approvals:

- The department may specify that a road vehicle cannot be entered on the RAV until an authorised vehicle verifier (AVV) has verified the vehicle, or modifications to the vehicle, meet relevant standards.
- Depending on the purpose for importing a road vehicle, the department may apply specified conditions that restrict who may use the road vehicle and how it may be used while the approval is in force.
- The department may specify that the approval holder must provide a Vehicle Inspection Certificate before the vehicle can be entered on the RAV.
- A concessional RAV entry approval for an older road vehicle may specify that an AVV must inspect the vehicle to ensure damage and corrosion does not exceed specified limits. If this is specified, the approval holder must provide the inspection report before the vehicle can be entered on the RAV.

How do I use ROVER to notify the department that I have met specified approval conditions?

You will need to sign in to your ROVER account to notify the department that you have meet the specified conditions.
