Short comment

Minimum requirement should focus on download AND upload performance of the network. The planned upgrade to 100Mbit is minimal for a 2025 future looking target but only necessary because of the MTM status of the NBN. If 100Mbit is the target for downloads, then upload performance should be minimally set to 25Mbit. However this should be revised and have a future 'guideline' by 2030 of Download Performance of 400Mbit and upload of 100Mbit.
