Short comment

1. It would be better to have a process to allow user to remove the block on blocked device by signing a disclaimer confirm the user already aware the device may not able to dial 000 and the device is not used as primary device for phone call.

2. It would be better to have a way for user and network provider to test the phone in the shop to confirm currently blocked phone is capable/incapable to call 000. (consider many phone have different setting/firmware can affect the access to 000)
