Comment: The current noise levels of Wing drone deliveries are fine. I find barking dogs, stereos and cars and motor bikes way more annoying sound. Lawn movers too are louder and go for longer. If you are concerned about suburban noise levels these items should be your first concern. The only reason some people notice the drones is because they are a new noise at a higher pitch than they are used to. They will fade into the landscape shortly unlike the noise created by barking dogs, motor bikes, lawn mowers and power tools.
