To whom it may concern,

I Live in an area with limited mobile phone coverage . This makes everyday life just a little more difficult. During emergencies it can be life threatening.
Over the last 6 months I have had to call 000 three times for various emergency situations. Unfortunately farm accidents and medical emergencies happen.
Without reasonable mobile phone service communication with emergency services it is very difficult. This impacts on the ability of emergency services to respond as needed to the critical patient or incident.

Yours Faithfully

Dr Allison Vincent, Bsc, MBBS, FRACGP
