

Proposed additional requirements in relation to the SEVs Left Hand Drive criterion (section 133 of the Rules)

It is proposed to determine the following matters under section 136 of the Road Vehicle Standards Rules 2018 (the Rules). The purpose of these additional requirements is to limit the age and categories of vehicles under the SEVs left hand drive criteria.

Proposed additional requirements

- Where an application for an entry on the SEVs Register under the left-hand drive criterion is for a vehicle in the medium goods vehicle NB2 sub-category, the road vehicle must have been manufactured on or after 1 January 1989.

Rationale

This is to prevent used (left-hand drive) medium goods vehicles being imported without any requirement to comply with any standards.

Older vehicles in this category are not eligible for concessional RAV entry under the older vehicles eligibility criterion. Model reports will only have standards for vehicles manufactured after 1 January 1989.

Questions:      Are the above requirements reasonable?
                       Should additional requirements be added?
                       Should any of the requirements be removed or amended?
